RETURN TO RACISM

Nearly 50 years have passed since Rev. Martin Luther King stood before the Lincoln Memorial in Washington D.C. to declare his dream. A dream that the day would come in this nation when his children would be judged by the content of their character, not the color of their skin. Nearly 2,000 years have passed since the Apostle Paul stood on Mars Hill in Athens and declared that our God "has made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on the face of the earth" (Acts 17:26).

With all of our progress in this nation overcoming and defeating racism, we have seen a dramatic return to racial divisiveness in the United States. We have a new president who was elected mostly based on his ethnicity. This in spite of the fact he is as much Caucasian as African-American. Christians voted for him based on this and what his policies were/are just didn't matter. Ethnic pride over ride same sex marriage, unrestricted abortion, embracing of black liberation theology and a host of other anti-Christianity stances.

Now enter Sonia Sotomayor, a Latina racist, who will be on the Supreme Court for life. She has stated the court is "where policy is made", rather than where the constitution should be the policy. She says, "a Latina woman would make a better decision than a white male" because of her experiences. Reverse this comment and the white male would be run out of town on a rail. This is racism pure and simple, but we have been warned not be too shrill in our comments about her. She is a member of "La Raza" which is connected with groups demanding the return of certain southwestern states to Mexico. They also work hard for amnesty for illegals. Her decisions on the bench have been reversed 60% by higher courts, but she will be confirmed by the senate. Principles don't matter, you just can't defy our nation's new messiah!

BUT LISTEN UP! The black pride in Obama AND the Latina pride in Sotomayor is sickening. Why? Where was the black pride in Clarence Thomas, Condeleeza Rice, Ken Blackwell, Michael Steele, Alan Keyes, Starr Parker, Lynn Swann and countless others? Were they not black enough? Where was the Latina pride in Attorney General Gonzales, Linda Chavez, Judge Estrada and others? Were they not Latina enough? No the issue with these excellent Americans is they were not liberals. They believe in the constitution of the United States and preserving our Judeo/Christian values. The Supreme Court is not supposed to adjudicate cases based on feelings, empathy, life experience or international law. The only thing the court should do is interpret the law in light of the constitution the legislature makes. Supreme Court justices are not accountable to the electorate once confirmed and they are there for life.

President Obama and his Marxist allies are determined to fundamentally change this nation and make it permanently pagan, Marxist and muslim friendly, rather than protecting Israel. If he gets two more Supreme Court appointments, he will have guaranteed his agenda will control the land for at least a generation. That is of course, if God holds off His wrath that long, and that is a BIG IF.

People who know me, know I'm not racist, but here I am, risking that label, because this President has brought racism back into dominance. However, I still maintain, there is only one race, the human race. And we are more in peril today than ever before, as a result of the godlessness of our government and, the Lord says, "my people love to have it so, and what will you do in the end thereof?" (Jer. 5:31)
